Introduction

We are facing an existential crisis of leadership in society and organisations today that calls for a different level of engagement between coach and their leader clients.

Psychosynthesis coaching offers a powerful alternative to conventional performance or behaviourally oriented approaches for coaches who want to work at greater depth and recognise the whole human being in the way they work with clients.

Psychosynthesis is a psychospiritual psychology drawing upon a holistic model of the psyche, which serves to integrate recent developments in fields such as systemic coaching and constellations, somatic coaching, mindfulness and the developmental perspective.

In the field of leadership development, psychosynthesis has a unique capacity to unlock the inner development of the leader, by working with all levels of consciousness and helping to release the Will. More than anything in today's complex and stressful world, leaders need to be supported to activate their free will and to connect with their purpose, meaning and values.

Psychosynthesis is going through a renaissance and reinvention as it broadens out from therapeutic training to the wider field of personal development, as intended by the founder Roberto Assagioli. This psychospiritual psychology also combines perfectly with the evolving modality of coaching within the context of leadership and complex organisational and societal systems.

PCL plays a leading role in updating, developing and applying psychosynthesis for the leadership world and the challenges of the coaching profession. With the increasing acceptance of the whole human being in the work place (body/somatic, emotions/heart, spirit/soul/Self; not just our rationality and minds) the organisational leadership world is calling out for practitioners with psychospiritual awareness, deep understanding of human development as well as the skills to work with crisis in the inner as well as the outer lives of leaders.

The PGCPLC is a coach certification programme backed by a university post-graduate level qualification and endorsed by fast-track membership of APECS as the top-level executive coaching professional body in the UK. This approach to professional coach certification and accreditation recognises and builds upon your relevant previous experience and qualifications rather than asking you to start at the beginning of a proprietorial tick-box, points accumulating system.

The PGCPLC is run in partnership with the London Institute of Psychosynthesis, which provides the academic foundations and accreditation with Middlesex University. The Institute draws upon more than 40 years' experience of training counsellors, therapists and coaches alongside its MA programme and also runs the Fundamentals of Psychosynthesis.

We have now run the five-month PGCPLC programme five times in London and once in Verona, Italy. More than 60 students have participated so far in these and new programmes are scheduled in 2019 in both the UK and Italy. Some of our graduates' feedback is illustrated in this prospectus. Please read their comments to gain a real sense of what this course might give you.

From 2019 we will be running the PGCPLC in two formats in the UK. We will continue the current London programme twice a year, involving five monthly three-day workshops. In addition, we are starting an international version, involving two six-day residential workshops, six months apart, with additional on-line course work supported by video-conferencing.

We are also planning to run a full 'Masters in Leadership Coaching' Programme (MA) from September 2020. This will build on the PGCPLC qualification with a Diploma Year involving 10 two-day workshops and a Thesis Year leading to submission of a 15,000 Masters Thesis. Both years will involve monthly half-day small group supervision. A new prospectus will be published for the Masters programme when the details have been finalised.

PLC was set up by Paul Elliott and Aubyn Howard in 2014, and we continue to co-facilitate many of the workshops. Roger Evans and Ruth Rochelle have also facilitated specific workshops on each London programme. We recently expanded our faculty with the addition of Sue Cruse and Harriet Hanmer. Our Italian workshops are co-facilitated with Gordon Symons. In addition, we are building a team of graduate coaches who provide individual coaching for students as part of the programme. Paul, Aubyn, Sue and Harriet are also qualified psychosynthesis coaching supervisors, who offer coaching supervision according to individual requirements to our students and graduates, as well as to other leadership coaches. Faculty profiles are provided at the end of this prospectus.

The psychosynthesis coaching community is growing, not just through our programmes but through the MA pathway and Roger Evans' 5DL coaching course (conversion for counselling graduates) at the Institute of Psychosynthesis. We held our first Annual Psychosynthesis Coaching symposium in November 2018, with 60 people attending (and at which the pictures in this prospectus were taken). PCL is committed to promoting psychosynthesis coaches in the organisational world to leadership clients and has established the first directory of psychosynthesis coaches in support of this. We hold periodic community days for psychosynthesis coaches to network, get involved in what we are doing and gain support for setting up and marketing their coaching practice.

We welcome you to our community.

The Post-Graduate Certificate in Psychosynthesis Leadership Coaching: key outcomes, intended audience and learning approach

What are the key outcomes?

- Professional coaching Certification and academically-backed Qualification by Middlesex University
- Professional Accreditation through fast-track Professional Membership of APECS
- Solid foundations in the principles, models, skills and tools of leadership coaching
- Grounded understanding of the psychosynthesis context and method of coaching
- Enhanced ability to work psycho-spiritually as a coach, with a deeper understanding of human behaviour and development
- Awareness of the leadership agendas and systems dynamics that are brought to coaching in organisations
- Personalised plan for your on-going personal and professional development as a coach

Who is the programme for?

- External and internal coaches, working within all types of organisation; corporate, large, medium or small; commercial businesses, public services such as local authorities, health and education, as well as charities and not-for-profit.
- Coaches who have hit up against the limitations of their existing training and experience, and want to learn how to work psycho-spiritually to deal with emotional issues and spiritual challenges (e.g. of identity, purpose, meaning, values and crisis)
- Organisational leaders who want to develop their coaching skills to become more effective as leaders
- Organisational professionals who are starting out on a coaching career and want a coach training programme that recognises and builds upon their existing level of experience and development
- Counsellors and therapists who are looking for a coach conversion training that enables them to work at depth with leaders in organisations.

What is our approach to learning?

- Wide mix of learning activities, including skills practice and role modelling alongside experiential and theoretical learning, supported by on-line resources and materials
- Supervised peer learning practice sessions, with frequent opportunities to witness how other people coach
- Case clinics and fishbowls to learn collectively as a group about what works
- Mastery in psychospiritual coaching involves both personal and professional development, so this course engages with your personal development journey
- The course is about what it means to be a leadership coach, as well as what a leadership coach does. We focus as much on the being as the doing of leadership and coaching on the programme.
- We look for and assess three aspects of psychosynthesis coach development – psychospiritual awareness, coaching skills and organisational systems and leadership understanding

What is psychosynthesis?

- Psychosynthesis is a psycho-spiritual psychology of Self and Will, developed by Roberto Assagioli. It is holistic as it is concerned with the whole human being, with the human psyche and all levels of our consciousness and unconsciousness. Explicitly this includes (i) the higher unconscious or superconscious, otherwise described as the transpersonal or spiritual realms, (ii) the middle unconscious or realm of our personality and personal psychology, (iii) the lower unconscious, the realm of history, trauma and prepersonal psychology. It is also integrative in its capacity to bring together different psychologies into a relational whole.

How is psychosynthesis coaching different?

- Psychosynthesis coaching goes beyond conventional performance and behaviourally oriented approaches to work at the level of being and what this means in the leadership context for the coachee. Roger Evans' coaching model of trifocal vision involves holding a psycho-spiritual context beyond the mind and learning how to use your heart as the resonator of Self. Alongside this, the psychosynthesis coach works in the gap (between where the coachee is and where they want to be), supporting them to activate their will to achieve both inner and outer goals.
- Psychosynthesis provides a powerful coaching psychology that helps us connect with our inner resources, activate our will, strengthen our sense of self and develop our capacity for being in right relationship with others. It gives coaches a context, method and techniques for helping leaders meet personal and human challenges of complex organisational change. It provides an accessible language for transforming organisations through activating principles of wholeness and purpose.

What does this course deliver?

- This is currently the UK's only Coaching Certification Programme founded upon psychosynthesis. The PGCPLC is a qualification in its own right that can lead to Professional Membership of APECS (the UK's leading professional body for executive coaches) and can be followed by the MA in Psychosynthesis Psychology, or the MA in Leadership Coaching, for those wishing to continue their development.
- The nature and scope of the work that is possible in leadership coaching is determined by: (i) the context of the coaching relationship, (ii) the explicit or implicit contract that is established; (iii) the openness, development and availability of the client and (iv) the professional capability and personal capacity of the coach - different coaches can work at a greater or lesser level of depth, involving emotional, personal and psychological ground, depending upon their training, skills and experience. This course helps you develop this capacity as a coach.

Feedback about the course

What participants have said...

A fantastic experience that I will never forget... the authenticity of Paul and Aubyn really elevated the course to a level I have never before experienced with a face-to-face course. NH

I felt the course involved a wonderful synthesis of personal, systemic and spiritual work which was constantly grounded in the day-to-day challenges of coaching and organisational life. Inspiring but also deeply practical. PS

This course is so well structured that it ensures everyone gets what they came on it for and much more. The depth and breadth of content is breath-taking...NL

This course was a life changing experience for me... the learning has supported me in making step changes in my role as a CEO and enabled me to confidently practice as a leadership coach. TD

This course is a powerful combination of theory and experience that has deepened my understanding of self and improved the quality of my coaching.

I am more grounded and confident in my ability to work with individuals at depth to support the transformation of leaders and organisations. RL

Expect to be on a deep personal journey, as well as a professional one. LS

It has given me a solid framework in which to couch my coaching practice and I also feel liberated to follow my intuition as I continue to work on myself and with my clients. NL

It is offering something extremely valuable to coaches, therapists, their clients, business and society as a whole. DM

Paul and Aubyn you are a great team, a perfect balance - your sincerity, passion, knowledge and understanding are truly inspirational. JG

What participants have said...

I honour your vision, boldness and courage for creating a coaching course in the spirit of evolutionary coaching and finding the depth and grace within your hearts to hold the space for us all, coming in with our pain, expectations and mush. You created a wonderful alchemical flask for our transformation. RH

The course was full of integrity, there was such a depth of knowledge, and it was delivered with compassion and a connectedness rarely experienced. DM

The peer group was magical and together we held each other and encouraged each other beyond belief. Paul and Aubyn were phenomenal guides, teachers, friends. They had the perfect balance of feeding our souls and our minds. LL

This course is a commitment to personal growth, understanding leadership, coaching, and mostly, bringing more of your soul and higher self into reality. You will not regret doing this course, it has something for everyone...Thank you all so much, this course has changed my life. AY

From the moment I stepped into the training room I had a sense of coming home. It was clear from the get-go that we, the participants, were going to be on an extraordinary, creative, inspiring and hugely informative learning journey; a journey that perfectly combined theory and practice.

Aubyn and Paul hold the space beautifully, flowing with what emerges in the group while ensuring that the group also gets the learning it needs. RH

I found the course transformational, for my coaching and in my personal growth. And for deepening my understanding of how both are inextricably linked... PC
